What Is Going On At Mass?

Last week, we examined the opening dialogue of the Preface to the Eucharistic Prayer and especially how it invites us to give thanks to God. As was indicated, the word Eucharist means "thanksgiving" and this dialogue seeks to move the faithful to praise and joy.

The Preface of the Eucharistic Prayer is one of the variable parts of the Mass, where there are many options that can change from week to week. Each of these Prefaces will highlight some special element of a particular celebration or season of the year. These prayers are packed with great truths and if we aren't attentive to this part of the Mass, we could really miss out on some great highlights that help ready our hearts for the ultimate prayer of thanksgiving—The Holy Eucharist. Next time you are at Mass, challenge yourself to pay particular attention to the prayers of the Preface.

At the end of the Preface we join with the choirs of heaven in singing with unending praise "Holy, Holy, Holy..."

This part of the Mass is called the Sanctus. As is true with many parts of the Mass, we can find these words in Holy Scriptures. The prophet Isaiah saw a vision of the Lord on a throne with angels singing, "Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord of hosts!" (Is. 6:3). In St. John's vision of heaven, the four living creatures continuously exclaim, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord God almighty, who was, and who is, and who is to come" (Rev. 4"8). Perhaps we will also recognize the second part of the Sanctus from the entry of Jesus into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday: "Hosanna to the Son of David; blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord; hosanna in the highest" (Mt. 21:9).

In singing these words, we join our own voices to those of the hosts of heavenly angels. The Sanctus reminds us of the beautiful presence of these angels at the Mass. Angels, present in our midst, surrounding the priest and the sanctuary, honoring God, present on the altar. Have you ever thought of this? In a very real way, the Sanctus helps to remind us that our participation in the Mass is truly a foretaste of heaven.

With this in mind, when we sing the Sanctus, we are joining in the praise the angels are singing for God. This song contains three praises and two petitions: First, we extol the holiness, power, and supreme dominion of God, when we say, "Holy, Holy, Holy Lord, God of hosts." Then, we praise his glory which shines forth in all creatures, when we say, "Heaven and earth are full of your glory." Third, we praise Christ by saying, "Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord." While saying this, we invite him to come to our soul with the same affection and devotion with which his Blessed Mother received him at the annunciation. The two petitions are: "Hosanna in the highest;" we say it twice, asking for our salvation and everything that leads to it. The first petition is addressed to God, the second to Christ."

Do This In Remembrance of Me!
